Passes Resolutions. The South Broadway Merchants' Association, at a meeting last night, adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas, our beloved President, William Mc-Kinley, has been ruthlessly slain in the prime of his manhood and the senith of his career by the hand of a treacherous assassin; and whereas it is our firm belief that this infamous crime was instigated in prompted by an association of conspirators against our Government, existing in our midst and known as unarchists; be it. Resolved That we, the members of the South Broadway Merchants' Association, deplore the terrible calamity which has befallen our nation. In losing its illustrious citizen, William McKinley, our country has, lost its most efficient exception of the virtues with which the highest types of American manhood are endowed. He was a man whose nobility of character had won the homage and love of all our people. In the works of Slakespeare:

At the Annual Gathering at the Third Baptist Church Twenty-Seven Congregations Are Represented - Reports Read and Addresses Made-The Reverend J. T. M. Johnston's Eloquent Plea for the World's Fair.

THE REVEREND DOCT OR J. T. M. JOHNSTON, Pastor Delmar Avenue Baptist Church.

The St. Louis Baptist Association began its eighty-second annual session yesterday at the Third Baptist Church, and it will continue through to-day and to-morrow. This association includes twenty-seven churches, having a membership of 4.668 and church property worth probably half a milion dollars.

Yesterday afternoon the association meeting opened with prayer by the Reverend were conducted by the Reverend Doctor T. C. Carleton, pastor of Lafayette Church, An interesting feature of the first session was the election of officers, which resulted as follows: Moderator, E. G. Davis; assistant moderator, A. W. Mayfield; secretary, A. W. Payne; assistant secretary, the Reverend S. Tailoring Company and Hernatt Bros. & Co., will be closed all day. Those closing at noon are:

The Reverend Doctor J. T. M. Johnston, pastor of the Delmar Avenue Baptist Church, preached the association sermon last night, and his theme was, "The St. Louis Baptist Association and the World's Fair."

Louis Emptist Association and the World's Fair."

In his introductory remarks, Doctor Johnston gave a vivid description of the circumstances attending the driving of the first stake on the World's Fair site, and spoke in glowing terms of the character of those having general direction of the Fair. As against the widespread interest in business circles, Doctor Johnston called attention to the apparent lack of special interest on the part of the religious world, and particularly his own denomination, as follows:

"Brethren, the business world is wide awake. What is the church of Jesus Christ doing? What have St. Louis Baptists done? What are we going to do? About the only special preparation of which I have heard, is the report that a $200.00 Baptist temple, located in the center of the city's population with all its sacred associations and honored history, has fallen into the hands of Alexander Dowle, or perhaps I should say, Elijah the III.

It was stated that during the year there were 3% patients, seventy of whom were charity patients; total cost of caring for both, 34,472.65. The report of the Baptist Sanitarium showed total receipts for the year to be $$0.327.69; disbursements, $33,817.50, leaving a balance on hand of $1,516.19. The report acknowledged special assistance from the Woman's Board of Charity and the Nursest Training School.

Visitors present were; The Reverend H. J. LaTour of Bonne Terre, the Reverend H. J. Ward of Centralia, the Reverend M. S. Whiteside and the Reverend John Gains, representing the Western Baptist College.

The new pastor of the Third Church, the Reverend Doctor W. J. Williamson, was formally introduced to the association.

TRANSFER WAGON

Edward Eakler's Skull Fractured in a Riot at Broadway and Cerre Street.

POLICE PREVENTED CONFLICTS.

Manager Tansey of Transfer Company Expects to Have a Hundred Teams at Work Saturday.

The St. Louis Transfer Company yester day made a successful attempt to run part of its wagons with new men. Resistance was made by the striking teamsters. Stones were thrown several times in the day, and several new drivers were hit, one of whom was seriously wounded.

The striking teamsters early gathered at the company's barn at Broadway and Choutean avenue, and a crowd of several hunwagons, manned by new men, were driven out of the barn. Each driver was accompanted by a guard arried with a club and pistol. Police were on guard. At the northeast corner of Broadway and Gratiot street stones were thrown from a crowd. No one was hit, and the police scattered the crowd. Two drivers were so frightened that they dropped their lines, and the frightened teams fied back to the barn. Edward Eakler of No. 2701A Eugenia treet, a new driver, was struck in the head with a brick at Broadway and Cerre street. He was taken to the City Hospital, where it was found his skull was fractured. When

He was taken to the City Hospital, where it was found his skull was fractured. When struck Eakler lost consciousness, and his team returned to the warehouse.

Three men were arrested, charged with participation in a riot. They gave their names as Arthur Cooper of No. 1407 North Twenty-first street, James Quigley of No. 1508 South Seventh street and Herman Miller of No. 1852 Park avenue. They denied that they were implicated in yesterday's affray when Eakler was struck.

About neon a number of men were driven from the roof of a one-story building at No. 222 South Broadway. The officer as said saveral of them were armed with coal and stones. Throughout the day crowds were collected on Broadway between the company's office and the stable. The new men were jeered, and only the presence of the police prevented a conflict.

The procession of wagons was followed by strikers and sympathizers from the warehouse to destinations, and note was made of the companies receiving goods.

A crowd of strikers collected at Eighth street and Lucas avenue, and at Eighth and St. Charles streets, in the afternoon, and endeavored to persuade the new drivers to leave their wagons. This is in the wholesale district, where most of the deliveries were made by the St. Louis Transfer Company yesterday.

made by the St. Louis Transfer Company yesterday.

At Eighth street and Washington avenue Joseph Johnston was hit with a brick, but was not seriously wounded. Patrolman Maloney, who was the only policeman near at the time, protected him from further assault. No arrests were made.

In the afternoon about seventy-five teams were put on the street. The work of the new men was necessarily slow. Over 250 men are out. By Saturday President Tansey of the St. Louis Transfer Company expects to have 100 teams at work. He also expects that many of the old men will return to work and thinks that by the last of next week he will have a full quota of men. No wagons will be run to-day on account of the holiday.

stitution held a memorial meeting last night in honor of President McKinley at the college hall, Grand avenue and Pine street. The programme opened with an address of welcome by Paul Bakewell, president of the Aiumni Association. This was followed by the reading of a poem on the subject of the late President, by E. Glimore. The verses were written by Professor Dale of the university. An address was delivered by the Reverend Thomas Brown, S. J. Two hymns, "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and "Lead, Kindly Light," were sung by the Postgraduate Quartet. After the programme, strong resolutions of regret on the death of Mr. McKniley, and protesting against the further spreading of the immoral doctrines that led up to this crime, were adopted. The resolutions recommended to State legislatures the adoption of measures to effectively expel from America propagatiors of doctrines that make such crimes possible.
